hello!

I'm Emily, a Visual Communication graduate from Arts University
Bournemouth, from a town called Farnborough in Hampshire.

I currently have a good amount of industry experience, but I feel
I have a lot more to offer. I've always had a big imagination;
therefore I love solving problems with creativity and enthusiasm.
I always enjoy experimentation and exploring new media. Any challenge, I jump in head first, eager to learn something new.

Being a creative designer, I have a love for ideas and visual things such as: typography, editorial design and book-binding, art direction, animation and digital design, high-end to street-style fashion, installations, music videos and lighting effects.
